WABER Conference, John Rixs Construction Ltd & Coen Snyman International are presenting a 1-day Seminar in Takoradi, Ghana to educate and capacitate the following target groups with knowledge and insights about the new editions of the FIDIC construction contracts and the key changes – construction clients, project implementation agencies, mining companies, oil and gas companies, energy companies, works and roads departments in MMDAs, procurement and project management consultants, developers, built environment professionals, contractors, and lawyers who prepare and advise on infrastructure contracts. Participants will acquire practical knowledge of contracting arrangements and conditions under the new FIDIC ‘rainbow suite’ of contracts which are widely used for construction and engineering projects involving international partners.

This Seminar is a free event as part of events marked to celebrate the 10th Anniversary of WABER Conference and give back to society in appreciation of your support which has enabled us to develop over the last 10 years. No registration fee is required for attendance. However, kindly note that if you would like a printed copy of the seminar notes, food and refreshments, and a certificate of attendance, let us know and you have to pay 250GHS to cover the costs of these choices. Please register early as we expect demand to exceed the number of spaces available.

Coenraad Snyman has delivered 100s of training seminars on FIDIC Contracts in different countries and received excellent feedback from participants. He is one of only 69 affiliate individual members of FIDIC around the world.

Coenraad is a specialist in the procurement of contracts in the engineering, construction, oil and gas, and mining sector, in contract administration, claims and dispute resolution.

He has practical experience in the use of most construction and engineering contracts. He is sought after and is often used as a trainer and facilitator on FIDIC and NEC forms of contract internationally.

He was, until September 2012, employed as a senior contract specialist at AngloGold Ashanti, the 3rd largest gold producer in the world. At AGA he was involved with the procurement and management of EPC and EPCM contracts on capital expansion projects situated in Namibia, Mali, Tanzania, Ghana, Guinea and the Democratic Republic of the Congo (DRC).

Prior to joining AngloGold Ashanti, Coenraad was a Director of Turner & Townsend and acted as head of their Contract Services division in Africa.

Coenraad is an admitted attorney. He practises as an independent consultant to the mining, oil and gas, engineering and construction industry, provides training in the procurement and use of FIDIC, NEC, GCC and JBCC contracts and accepts appointment as an adjudicator, arbitrator or DAB member.

He acts for and on behalf of parties in disputes but is often also consulted to advise clients, during the execution of the works, on ways in which to avoid and/or to resolve or settle matters prior to them escalating into formal disputes.
