

WEBINAR ON COVID-19 AND CONSTRUCTION CONTRACTS

Date: 18th May 2020 | Time: 10am – 12:30pm GMT

The occurrence of COVID-19 has raised interesting and contentious questions around the impact analysis of such exceptional events on construction and engineering contracts affected by the ongoing pandemic. We are offering this Webinar to clients/owners of infrastructure projects, contractors, consultants, project managers, lawyers and others dealing with the complex contractual matters arising around delay, disruption, extension of time, additional costs, health and safety measures, exceptional event and force majeure claims. How should the impact of all of this on a construction contract be properly analysed for contract management purposes?

Join us for an online seminar on “Impact analysis of COVID-19 on construction and engineering contracts”

You will gain fresh perspective and practical insights from participating in this online Seminar presented by leading international experts:

Jeremy Glover
Partner, Fenwick Elliott
Internationally recognised expert in construction law and contracts. Jeremy is listed as a leader in his field in Who's Who Legal: Construction 2019. Has extensive experience advising on all aspects of projects.

Jean Terblanche
Project Controls and Construction Claims Expert, Jacobs ZATE
Experienced Project Controls and Construction Claims Expert in Oil and Gas, Infrastructure, Power Supply, Mining, Rail and Buildings. Has extensive experience in preparing/defending claims & providing commercial, contractual and technical planning and project controls advice

Registration and participation information

The participation fee for this Webinar is 100 GHS only. Register latest by 15th May 2020 and participate from the comfort of your home or office. When you register, we will enrol you in the online class in MS Teams and send you the detailed agenda. We will provide advance guidance on how to join the online seminar and participate.

You will receive presentation slides for your personal use and an electronic Certificate of participation

To register, please send us a WhatsApp message on +233 545 204 300 or email info@waberconference.com

Payment Information

Mobile money number: 055 869 4204 | Name on account: WABER Conference
Bank Account Number: 6010138736 | Bank: Zenith Bank Ghana Limited | Account Name: WABER Conference

JOIN US AND BE AT THE FOREFRONT OF KNOWLEDGE